On the Cover

For Henry H. Holdsworth wildlife photography is much more than taking pictures of animals. It's about gaining insight through interaction with other living creatures. It's about the challenge of capturing behavior, color, composition and light in that one perfect moment that brings life to the subject. The sheer beauty of the images is important, but the true heart of Henry's photography is focused on bringing about a greater appreciation of nature and its preservation.

WELCOME TO JACKSON HOLE

Welcome to Jackson Hole, where the untamed spirit of the West lives on, jagged mountain spires reach to the sky above an unparalleled landscape, and the crystal waters of the mighty Snake River run through it all. This is the scenery that spurred our nation to establish the world's first national park, Yellowstone National Park, in 1872, and its equally spectacular neighbor to the south, Grand Teton National Park, in 1929. These parks are part of the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem, one of the largest nearly intact temperate-zone ecosystems left on earth.

Even knowing about Grand Teton and Yellowstone, most visitors are surprised to learn how much there is to see and do in this magnificent Jackson Hole valley. The variety of activities and events is so extensive you'll probably wish you had more time to spend here.

The Land of Rugged Adventurers & Stoic Settlers

The name Jackson Hole refers to an entire valley in the northwest corner of Wyoming, surrounded by mountains. Originally named after an 1820s fur trapper, Davey Jackson, it's 48 miles long and between 8 and 15 miles wide. The northern end of the valley serves as the southern gateway to Yellowstone National Park and is about 6,779 feet above sea level. The town of Jackson (whose name is often confused with the valley, Jackson Hole) sits at the southern end of the valley, at an elevation of about 6,069 feet.

Although Native Americans passed through this valley thousands of years ago, the long, harsh winters discouraged any permanent settlement until the late 1800s. After the town of Jackson was established in 1894, homesteaders began to trickle in, lured by the prospect of open land for the taking. They faced a hard existence and eked out a living through a combination of cattle ranching, farming and big-game hunting. Descendants of some of those early settlers still ranch or reside within the valley today.

In 1920, Jackson residents elected an all-female town council, continuing the pioneer spirit of Wyoming that earned it the nickname of Equality State when it became the first state in the country to grant women the right to vote in 1869.

Yellowstone and Grand Teton national parks have always drawn sightseers to this region, but Jackson Hole's tourist trade truly took root in the 1920s, when dude ranches like the still-operating Triangle X Ranch began inviting visitors to stay. A "dude," in Western parlance, is a guest who pays to experience cowboy ranch life.

Perhaps nothing shaped the identity of Jackson Hole from a cowboy town to a ski town as much as the creation of the Jackson Hole Mountain Resort in 1965. Indeed, the acclaimed ski resort was built at the site of a dude ranch called Crystal Springs Ranch. Nearly overnight, the resort helped propel the valley from a one-season economy to a year-round one, drawing visitors from every corner of the world.

Jackson Hole Today

With a population that has now expanded to about 23,000 residents, Jackson Hole is not the isolated valley it once was. Even so, locals are easily outnumbered by some 4 million visitors each year. In addition to being the home of Grand Teton and Yellowstone national parks, two major ski areas (and a third just "over the hill"), the National Elk Refuge and Bridger-Teton National Forest, we also have a thriving cultural scene. From world-class art to live theatrical, musical and dance performances—featuring national and international actors, musicians and dance companies—Jackson Hole is far from a sleepy valley.

A nod to the past is carefully maintained with the decidedly Western flair evident most everywhere, including wooden boardwalks around Town Square, twice-weekly rodeo, the Jackson Hole Shootout and authentic chuck wagon dinners. There are plenty of experiences to bring out the inner cowboy in everyone.

A Myriad of Adventures in Store for You

"I came for the winter, but stayed for the summer," is a popular saying by locals who have long understood the lure and beauty of Jackson Hole during the all-too-short summer months. It's a postcard come to life, framed by the magnificent Teton Range. Thanks to the efforts of generations of conservationists, 97% of this beautiful landscape is public land and protected from development. For outdoor enthusiasts, Jackson Hole has a role as both a sanctuary and a playground, no matter what the season. There are hundreds of trails to tackle, many mountains to climb and ski down, abundant wildlife to spot, rivers and lakes to float and fish on, and so much more.

So, welcome—and let the memories begin!

Filmed in Jackson Hole

Fifteen feature films have been made on location in Jackson Hole. John Wayne's first speaking part was in The Big Trail, filmed here in 1929. Other movies shot in the valley include: Shane, Spencer's Mountain, Any Which Way You Can, Rocky IV and Django Unchained. The season three premier of "Modern Family" was also filmed here in 2011.

TRAVELER TIDBIT

- Grand Teton National Park was actually protected twice! In 1929, the original park was formed to preserve the Tetons and the glacial lakes nestled beneath them. In 1950, this protected land was extended to include north of town as well.

Jackson Hole History

Before the settlers and fur trappers come here, Native Americans make annual trips through the surrounding mountains to hunt this wildlife-rich area.

John Colter leaves the expedition of Lewis & Clark to hunt in the northern Rockies. He is credited with discovering Jackson Hole and the area that is now Yellowstone National Park.

Seven years after arriving here with trapping companions Jedediah Smith, Jim Bridger and David ("Davey") Jackson, William Sublette names the region "Jackson's Hole" after his fellow mountain man.

The valley's first dude ranch—the JY Ranch—is formed, officially launching the hospitality industry in Jackson Hole.

The National Elk Refuge is established. Today it is the winter home to one of the largest herds of elk in the world.

Jackson elects the first all-female slate of town officials in the United States, a show of progressiveness that continues to this day.

Grand Teton National Park is dedicated.

Neil Rafferty erects a rope tow on Snow King Mountain, making it the first ski area in Wyoming.

The Jackson Hole Shootout is started by a local businessman to draw tourists to downtown. It is the longest continuously running "gunfight" in the United States.

Jackson Hole Ski Area in Teton Village opens.

Bill Briggs makes the first ski descent of the Grand Teton.

Jackson Hole Mountain Resort is named No. 1 Ski Resort in North America by Forbes magazine seven years in a row since 2010.

QUINTESSENTIAL JACKSON HOLE

M O M E N T S

There's a lot to do in our pretty playground in the Tetons! Here's a look at what makes Jackson Hole memorable.

1 Experience Grand Teton

In addition to the magnificent Teton Range framing the west side of Grand Teton National Park, there are myriad things to love about this 485-square-mile wilderness and recreation area. In fact, its wide range of recreational activities is among the most accessible of any national park. Exploration opportunities abound—and the amazing views just won't quit.

Ski at 3 Major Ski Resorts

Jackson Hole boasts two major ski areas and a third "over the hill"—Grand Targhee—just a short drive away. For seven years running, Jackson Hole Mountain Resort has been named the No. 1 ski resort in the country by Forbes magazine. Snow King Mountain (the locals' hill) literally looms over the town of Jackson and holds the title of the first ski area in Wyoming.

Hit Town Square

Bathed by the neon honky-tonk sign of the Million Dollar Cowboy Bar and bordered by four quirky elk-antler arches and wooden boardwalks, the Town Square forms Jackson Hole's retail and artistic core. It is also the site of the Jackson Hole Shootout, the longest-running gunfight in the country. Don't forget to take a photo under the antler arches.

See the Largest Herd of Elk

You won't need binoculars to view the thousands of elk wintering on the National Elk Refuge, a 25,000-acre swath of protected land. Each year, wapiti gather to feed, scramble for dominance with extraordinary antler clashes and rear their young. A unique way to experience the refuge is by horse-drawn sleigh. In summer, tour the historic Miller House, which sits on the edge of this sanctuary, and scan for nearby wildlife.

Visit Yellowstone

Yellowstone is the world's first national park. It has approximately 10,000 active thermal features, the most famous of which is Old Faithful. The 3,500-square-mile wilderness recreation area is mostly in Wyoming but spreads into parts of Montana and Idaho, too. It is open year-round, but in winter the roads are closed to automobiles; only snowmobiles and snowcoaches are allowed—a decidedly bucket-list way to experience the park!

TRAVELER TIDBIT

- Bears are at their most active during late summer and early autumn as they load up on calories to fuel their long winter. Their preferred food is huckleberries, and they like lots and lots of them.
- jht.guide/bears

Watch Wildlife

With nearly 500 animal species inhabiting the Greater Yellowstone region, some have called our area the "American Serengeti." Wild things are literally all around you! Spotting a bison, moose, bear, bald eagle, coyote and/or elk is a definite possibility during your visit.

Drink at an Iconic Watering Hole

Straddle a saddle at the bar of the Million Dollar Cowboy Bar; see the more than 4,000 1921 uncirculated Morgan silver dollars embedded in the bar of the aptly named Silver Dollar Bar in the Wort Hotel; or attend "Sunday Church" at the Stagecoach Bar in Wilson and dance the night away!

Find Your Western Spirit

Attending the Jackson Hole Rodeo is a favorite way to experience a tried-and-true Western tradition. Every Wednesday and Saturday evening throughout the summer, see authentic cowboys ride bucking broncos and testy, mighty bulls, barrel race and rope calves, among other competitions.

Venture Down the Snake

Taking a guided, exhilarating whitewater rafting trip or mellower scenic float down the Snake River is truly a Jackson Hole must-do item during your visit. Professional and knowledgeable outfitters abound here to steer you down the magnificent Snake.

Get Active

There are endless recreational opportunities in Jackson Hole. Hiking, biking, climbing, swimming, paddling, boating, rafting, horseback riding, paragliding, golfing, fishing, ziplining, tackling ropes courses, downhill, Nordic and heli-skiing, snowshoeing, snowmobiling, dog sledding, snow tubing, ice skating and shooting experiences are all available. Phew! There's no excuse not to be active in the Tetons.

HIGH-ALTITUDE HEALTH TIPS

Dr. Jim Little Jr.
Family Health & Urgent Care

How can I prepare for high-altitude conditions?

Most people will adapt relatively well to the altitude on the valley floor, which is 6,300 feet above sea level. The people who tend to have the biggest trouble often have other medical problems. Even healthy visitors can occasionally have issues with the altitude during an activity.

What does altitude sickness feel like?

The most common adverse reaction we see around here is acute mountain sickness. The symptoms are: headache, nausea, fatigue and sometimes shortness of breath. Generally, those symptoms are worse when you combine higher elevations and exertion.

It's not unusual for someone to fly here in the morning and then go straight to the top of the mountain to ski. If you feel that you might be suffering from acute mountain sickness, descend to the valley floor, stay hydrated, get some rest and most of the symptoms will pass.

If you are having trouble adapting to the elevation of Jackson Hole, you shouldn't go to Yellowstone—most of the Yellowstone plateau is significantly higher than the elevation in Jackson Hole.

How can I protect myself from altitude sickness?

1. Stay well hydrated. Due to our dry climate here, it's very easy to get dehydrated.

2. Limit your alcohol intake.

3. Make sure you get plenty of rest and transition gradually from the valley floor to higher elevations. Don't try to tackle a steep trail or climb a mountain on your first day or two. There is less oxygen in the air at this elevation, so your aerobic capacity is decreased. As your body adjusts, you can build up to higher elevations and more strenuous physical activity.

What can I do if I'm still not feeling well?

It's definitely good to see a doctor who can evaluate and verify that you're not having more serious problems. Unrelated cardiac problems or other medical issues have similar symptoms to those of altitude sickness.

Other health risks to be aware of:

Sunburn — At higher elevations, there is less atmosphere, so you are more susceptible to sunburn. SPF 15 or higher is adequate. Reapply throughout the day, especially on the water. A good pair of sunglasses is also recommended.

Sports Injuries — Wearing a helmet when snowboarding, skiing, mountain biking or riding horses can protect you from serious injury.

Wear Adequate Layers — Be prepared for inclement weather and drops in temperature. The best layers are wool or synthetic fibers that wick moisture.

PLANNING ESSENTIALS

jht.guide/plan

When to Come

Winter

Mid-November to mid-March; temperatures of 30 degrees and below

Skier or not, everyone agrees that winter is when our valley, blanketed in snow, lives up to its image. It's the time for sleigh rides in the National Elk Refuge, snowshoeing in Grand Teton National Park, snowmobile treks and skiing deep powder.

Spring

April through May; 35 to 70 degrees

Because spring is so unpredictable and uncrowded, it can be a great time to visit, particularly for wildlife lovers. Certainly the most underrated season here, spring has plenty to do if you're willing to go with the flow of what the weather presents.

Summer

June through August; 70 to 85-plus degree days

Rivers run full. Mountain trails open. Lake temperatures rise. Music festivals and dozens of special events swing back into gear. Hiking, biking, camping, rafting ... the list of summer's pleasures in Jackson Hole goes on and on.

Fall

September to early November; 45 to 75 degrees

For those who might see the bustling options of summer as a bit too much to handle, fall is essentially a quieter version. The full menu of activities isn't quite available, but the calmer fall season has benefits of its own. Did we mention the aspens turn an incredible fiery hue?

Getting Here

By Airplane

In true Jackson Hole fashion, even the local airport is worth seeing. Situated 10 miles north of town in the heart of Grand Teton National Park, Jackson Hole Airport is a beautiful timber-and-stone structure featuring huge windows that frame a spectacular view of the Tetons. See jacksonholeairport.com for arrival and departure schedules. jht.guide/airport

American	800-433-7300
Delta	800-221-1212
United	800-241-6522

By Bus

There are two bus companies that provide service between Salt Lake City and Jackson.

What to Pack

Jackson Hole is a casual place and what you wear is based more on functionality, so dress for comfort. jht.guide/pack

Winter

Layering is the way to go. A base layer should be made of a moisture-wicking, synthetic fabric. A fleece works fine as mid-layer. Wear a jacket that blocks the wind. Other winter essentials: moisture-wicking socks; waterproof gloves; goggles and sunglasses with polarized lenses to guard against glare off ice and snow.

Summer

Bring a fleece jacket for cool mornings and evenings. Lightweight, zip-off hiking pants are recommended, as are sturdy hiking boots made from a breathable but waterproof fabric. Lighter trail-running shoes can also work if you're doing a milder hike or run. Other summer essentials: rainwear; waterproof sandals; swimsuit; a spacious and sturdy backpack.

LOCAL INSIGHT — Bill Briggs

First person to ski down the Grand Teton, former Exum Mountain guide and ski school director, musician

“I LOVE ...”

- ▶ Playing at the “Hoot” (Hootenanny) each Monday night at Dornan’s
- ▶ Working with Open Range Films every morning
- ▶ Teton County Library
- ▶ Lunch and coffee at the Virginian Restaurant each noontime
- ▶ “Going to church” every Sunday evening to make music with the Stagecoach Band

TRAVELER TIDBIT

Jackson Hole's ranching tradition is a proud one that dates back to the earliest permanent settlers of the 1880s and '90s. Many of the heritage ranches are still in operation, including Lockhart Cattle Company and the Mead Ranch—both have grazed their herds of cattle on valley grasslands for multiple generations.

MOUNTAIN WEATHER

JIM WOODMENCY

Part of the allure of Jackson Hole is its extremes—extreme mountains, extreme sports ... and even extreme weather. Like the locals who live here year-round, you'll want to follow the weather trends closely to be prepared for each day in the mountains. Our high elevation, rugged terrain and relatively low humidity can create major fluctuations in temperature, precipitation and wind in a short period of time, potentially putting you at risk.

Instead of relying on the default weather app on your smartphone, we recommend using our local website.

Every morning during the winter and summer seasons, Jackson Hole meteorologist Jim Woodmency interprets the local weather patterns to create a forecast, offering an informed sense of what to expect, so you can plan and dress accordingly. His audio forecast is great, too!

There are many ways to stay current with mountainweather.com's features: from radar and satellite maps to webcams and a Yellowstone National Park weather page. You'll find the seasonal info on the climate page especially helpful for planning your trip to Jackson Hole.

Practical Tips

Here's a local's perspective on how best to enjoy your visit to Jackson Hole and Grand Teton National Park. jht.guide/tips

BE ADVENTUROUS

TACKLE ALL OF OUR ATTRACTIONS WITH VIGOR

The main attractions in Jackson Hole are our natural setting, wildlife and recreational opportunities. Choose to engage in it all by connecting with a local wildlife, rafting, hiking or photography guide service to jump-start your trip and knowledge of the area.

BE PREPARED:

HYDRATION + WARMTH + FUEL

Any outing needs to always include water, extra warm layers and additional food. Bring a small pack and always have it with you when you are outdoors.

BE CAREFUL

DON'T RUN OVER OR HARASS OUR WILDLIFE

Please be respectful of our wild animals, as the growing human population of our valley has reduced their habitat. We all love seeing them, but drive very cautiously or you might have a moose coming through your windshield, which is a losing proposition for everyone. For whatever reason, some visitors think they can walk up to a bison, moose or bear. Not only does this stress the animal out, but also it can provoke a potentially deadly attack.

Be Prepared in the Backcountry

ALWAYS pack these essentials: food, water, first aid, warm clothes, light, fire, phone and bear spray.

- Be sure to check the weather forecast and conditions before you go.
- Tell someone where you're going and when you'll be back.
- Be sure you have the right route and the right group on the right day.
- Have a communication plan with your group and speak up if you have concerns.
- Always be willing to turn around and adjust your plan or goal.

Geographic Orientation

What exactly is Jackson Hole?

jht.guide/orientation

This is actually the No. 1 question asked by visitors. "Jackson Hole" refers to the 13-mile-wide, 48-mile-long valley that runs from north to south along the Snake River between the Teton Mountain Range to the west and the Gros Ventre Mountains to the east. It was originally named after 1820s fur trapper Davey Jackson—trappers called a valley a "hole." "Jackson," on the other hand, is our main town, situated toward the southeast of the valley, at the base of Snow King Mountain.

North is Grand Teton National Park, the Jackson Hole Airport and, eventually, Yellowstone National Park.

West of town (the "West Bank"), you'll cross the Snake River before arriving in Wilson, alongside the southern peaks of the Tetons. A bit farther north on that same western side of the Snake River is Teton Village, the home of Jackson Hole Mountain Resort.

To the south is the Snake River Canyon, where most of the whitewater rafting and kayaking activity is concentrated.

East of town are the Gros Ventre ("grow-vahnt") Mountains and huge expanses of wilderness.

TRAVELER TIP

- PLEASE TAKE NOTE: A new roundabout is being built this summer (2018) on Hwy 89 at the Gros Ventre Road intersection which may delay you upwards of 15 minutes heading to and from the park's Moose entrance.

Getting Around

START Bus

The START Bus provides a free town shuttle that runs every half-hour and can get you to restaurants, supermarkets and shops in town. Buses also run between Jackson and Teton Village. Go to startbus.com, call 307-733-4521 or get the RouteShout app.

Rental Cars, Taxis

Rental cars are available at the airport and in town. There are multiple taxi companies, Uber and Lyft.

Biking

There are 69 miles of multi-use pathways. Bike rentals are available as well as Jackson Bike Share; go to StartBikeJH.com. See "Go Biking" on pages 50-51, or jht.guide/bike

WINTER

A DAY IN THE LIFE

jht.guide/winter

There is so much to see and do in Jackson Hole, it's hard to know where to start. So we've created some day-long itineraries for you to choose from depending on your personality—or on how you might be feeling on any given day, winter or summer.

Morning

Sunrise wildlife expedition tour. Do this first so you can know where to look for wildlife during the rest of your visit.

Lunch

Palate at the National Museum of Wildlife Art, overlooking the National Elk Refuge.

Midday

Take an hour-long, horse-drawn sleigh ride on the refuge. Then drive on the elk refuge road and look for the big horn sheep.

Dinner

The Gun Barrel for local game or fish as a hearty, winter meal. Fun fact: the restaurant was formerly the Wyoming Wildlife Museum!

Breakfast

The Alpine House Lodge and Cottages, owned by former winter Olympians and current mountain guides.

Morning

Backcountry excursion with guides from JH Mountain Resort, Exum Mountain Guides or JH Mountain Guides.

Lunch

Late lunch or hearty snack from Creekside Deli. Or carbo-load on yummy pasta from Orsetto Italian Bar & Eatery on Town Square.

Midday

Rent snowshoes or cross-country skis to take a tour around Taggart Lake in Grand Teton National Park.

Dinner

Thai Me Up for authentic Thai and a glass of on-site craft-brewed beer.

Breakfast

Wild Sage at the Rusty Parrot Lodge for a breakfast of seasonal and local ingredients.

Morning

Jackson Hole Buffalo Meat Company to check out ranch-raised bison and elk products. Ship steaks home as a souvenir.

Lunch

Persephone, an organic restaurant and artisanal bakery in downtown Jackson.

Afternoon

Vertical Harvest, a three-story hydroponic farm that sells vegetables to the Jackson area and public via its on-site store.

Dinner

Snake River Grill on the Town Square or the restaurant at the White Buffalo Club.

Where to Stay

The top-floor Miller Suite, with 180-degree wraparound deck and outdoor fireplace, at Hotel Jackson.

Late Morning

Take a day off from the slopes and go on a dog sled tour with Continental Divide Dog sled Adventures—lunch included.

Afternoon

Share a romantic his-and-hers massage at Body Sage Spa.

Dusk

A sunset wildlife expedition tour with one of the valley's local guides is where memories are made.

Dinner

Candle-lit dinner for two at The Blue Lion, famous for its rack of lamb.

Morning

Breakfast at E.Leaven before a half-day, guided snowmobile trip to Granite Hot Springs.

Midday

Snow King for rides on the Cowboy Coaster and snow tubes.

Dinner

The Lift at base of Snow King, followed by ice skating on Town Square under the twinkly lights.

GRAND TETON NATIONAL PARK

TRAVELER TIDBIT

The geologic and scenic core of the range, known as the Cathedral Group, includes the Grand Teton (13,775 feet), Mount Owen (12,928 feet), Teewinot (12,325 feet), the Middle Teton (12,804 feet) and the South Teton (12,514 feet).

Quick Facts

- ESTABLISHED: February 29, 1929
- SIZE: 485 square miles
- HEIGHT OF GRAND TETON: 13,775 feet; second-highest peak in Wyoming
- OUTDOOR TERRAIN: 242 miles of hiking trails
- DEPTH OF JACKSON LAKE: 438 feet

Ain't Life Grand?

Go beyond the view with our crib sheet to all the park's can't-miss highlights.

Grand Teton National Park is 485 square miles rich in extraordinary wildlife, pristine lakes, hiking trails, a multi-use pathway system, the Snake River and, oh yes, serenity. And did we mention the majestic, awe-inspiring Teton Range that runs the length of the 89-year-old park? Getting close to those mountains alone is worth the price of admission.

The world-famous Tetons are “what mountains are supposed to look like,” Theodore Roosevelt once remarked of the spectacular range, which is actually a young one—a spry 10 million years old. It was formed when multiple earthquakes along the Teton fault line pushed the peaks upward, in what is known as a “fault block.” Huge glaciers then sculpted the range into the jaw-dropping, rugged rock spires you see today.

In addition to these magnificent mountains, the park is dotted with the historic dwellings of the valley’s earliest homesteaders and is still inhabited today by many of the West’s iconic wildlife.

Grand Teton is equal parts “see” and “do”—maybe even more “do!” Truly a hiker’s park, its mountain trails are among the most accessible of any national park. In addition to hikers, it also attracts world-class climbers and extreme skiers.

"To Do" Options

Hike the Park

There are 242 miles of hiking trails in Grand Teton National Park, ranging from easy strolls to more strenuous treks at steeper ascents. All have water features such as cascading streams from both valley and high-alpine lakes. Wildlife is generally viewable, including moose, deer, black bear and smaller mammals, as well as eagles and hawks. See more hiking information at jht.guide/hike

Bike the Park

There are 16 miles of paved, multi-use pathways available for biking throughout Grand Teton National Park—the most paved trail system of any national park! Rent a bike and experience its grandeur on two wheels.

Visit jht.guide/bike

Get on the Water

jht.guide/water

JENNY LAKE

Jenny Lake Boating runs small, passenger shuttles (for a fee) from the South Jenny Lake boat dock to the Hidden Falls/Inspiration Point dock every 15 to 20 minutes during the summer. The one-hour scenic and interpretive tour gets you up close to the mountains.

STRING AND LEIGH LAKES

Paddleboarders, canoers and kayakers will find both String and Leigh lakes a breeze for leisurely paddling. Rent a boat or SUP. These are the best spots for beginners and children to enjoy water sports in Grand Teton.

JACKSON LAKE

A favorite recreation site for Jackson Hole locals, Jackson Lake is the largest lake in the park and welcomes all kinds of watercraft. Rent a kayak, canoe or runabout at Signal Mountain or Colter Bay. Take a lake cruise and enjoy a meal at Elk Island with Grand Teton Lodge Company.

SNAKE RIVER

The Snake winds an ever-changing route through the valley. Take a guided scenic float down the river to soak in the spectacular scenery of the park.

BARKER-EWING

GRAND TETON PARK FLOATS

"Ten of the most beautiful miles of river in the world," and that's why we run our float trips only inside Grand Teton National Park. For more than 50 years, Barker-Ewing has provided scenic and wildlife viewing opportunities that are unique to this portion of the Snake River.

Helpful Information

Entrance Fees

A 7-day pass is $35 for a private, non-commercial vehicle and $30 per motorcycle. The fee for those on foot or bicycle is $20 per person (age 16 and older). Annual passes cost $70.

Digital Resources

Visit Grand Teton National Park's website: nps.gov/grete and download the official "NPS Grand Teton National Park" app.

Permits

Backcountry permits, which must be retrieved in person at the Craig Thomas Discovery and Visitor Center, Colter Bay Visitor Center or Jenny Lake Ranger Station, cost $35, with an additional $10 fee for reservations. Permits are required for all overnight stays outside designated campgrounds.

Where to Fuel Up

After a day's adventure, have a drink and a nibble on the deck at Dornan's, Signal Mountain Lodge or Jackson Lake Lodge. Additional dining options exist at Leek's Marina and Colter Bay.

For more formal dining, try Jackson Lake Lodge's Mural Room, Jenny Lake Lodge and Peaks Restaurant at Signal Mountain.

Insta-worthy

- ▶ Snake River Overlook
- ▶ Oxbow Bend Turnout
- ▶ Moulton Barn
- ▶ The Cathedral Group Turnout
- ▶ Jenny Lake Overlook
- ▶ View from Jackson Lake Lodge
- ▶ Schwabacher's Landing

More "To Do" Options

See Homesteader History

Visit the 1890s barns and ranch structures of Mormon Row, the Murie Center in Moose and Menor's Ferry Historic District, which includes the Chapel of the Transfiguration. All are intriguing historic sites.

Catch a Native Cutthroat Trout

Grand Teton National Park is a world-renowned fly fishing destination, especially for anglers hoping to land a Snake River fine-spotted cutthroat trout. Try a guided fishing trip down the Snake River or on Jackson Lake.

Climb a Mountain

While climbing the Grand Teton can be both a bucket list item and an ambitious undertaking—"easily" experienced with Exum or Jackson Hole Mountain Guides—you may want to opt for a family mountaineering adventure with Exum's daylong intro to climbing program.

Cultural History and Visitor Centers

CRAIG THOMAS DISCOVERY AND VISITOR CENTER

Begin your trip into the park with a stop here at the Moose entrance. From interpretive exhibits on local flora and fauna to a helpful team of park rangers and one of the most complete bookstores of any national park in the nation, this is the place to pick up a guidebook and learn about park activities.

LAURANCE ROCKFELLER PRESERVE AND VISITOR CENTER

This eco-conscious 1,106-acre preserve includes 8 miles of trails. The interpretive visitor center features unique sensory exhibits and various ranger-led hikes and programs.

MENOR'S FERRY HISTORIC DISTRICT

Take a self-guided or ranger-led tour of an area offering a look at homesteading and pioneer life in Jackson Hole. Check out an early 1920s-era cabin, a general store, the Chapel of the Transfiguration and a replica of a ferry that shuttled people across the Snake River to Moose (and Dornan's). Enjoy a ride on the ferry during the late summer months.

10 FREE THINGS TO DO IN JACKSON HOLE

Here's a sampling of fun, free things to do in the valley. For more info, including links to helpful websites, go to jht.guide/free

1 Ranger Programs in Grand Teton National Park

The park boasts an amazing collection of year-round programs, including hikes, campfire presentations, bear safety and more.

2 The Jackson Hole and Greater Yellowstone Visitor Center

Located on the north end of town, the visitor center offers exhibits, programs and activities for all ages. Among other things, kids can earn patches through the Jr. Blue Goose Ranger Program.

3 Visit the Laurance S. Rockefeller Preserve

Located on Moose-Wilson Road, this 1,106-acre refuge within Grand Teton National Park features an 8-mile trail system and a LEED-certified visitors center with unique, multi-sensory exhibits ranging from innovative videos and photography to a meditative soundscape room.

4 Ride the Bridger Gondola

at Jackson Hole Mountain Resort for happy hour on The Deck, which overlooks the whole of the 'Hole. A summer menu of appetizers and shared plates is available, as are tunes from local musicians and DJs. Free "gondi" rides start daily at 5 p.m.

5 See a Raptor Up Close

On Wednesdays during the summer, the Teton Raptor Center offers presentations at 5 p.m. on the Village Commons in Teton Village. Each week, avian educators from the center bring two birds of prey, such as great horned owls, eagles and hawks.

6 Boulder at the Base of Snow King Mountain

Open year-round, the Teton Boulder Park features three large boulders for climbers of all ages and skill levels. The adjacent Phil Baux Park includes picnic tables, horseshoe pits and a playground.

7 Listen to Free Live Music

During summer you can hear tunes in Teton Village on Sundays at Concerts on the Commons. In winter rock out to Music Under the Tram each Saturday throughout March, or attend the annual Rendezvous Music Festival. Year-round enjoy local musicians at the Dornan's Hootenanny in Moose.

8 Walk the Sculpture Trail at the National Museum of Wildlife Art

Complementing the museum's inside offerings, the  $\frac{3}{4}$ -mile Sculpture Trail is an outdoor art venue that winds up and over the sage-covered hillside that overlooks the National Elk Refuge. Check out magnificent multi-medium replicas of moose, bison, bighorn sheep, an eagle and other wildlife.

9 Stargaze With Expert Astronomers

Wyoming Stargazing hosts public stargazing events on the lawn next to the Center for the Arts, in downtown Jackson, from November through May every Friday night. During the summer, the organization leads Friday night stargazing at Rendezvous Park (R Park) in Wilson. A giant Dobsonian telescope is provided to view planets, stars, nebulae, galaxies and more.

10 Jackson National Fish Hatchery

located 4 miles north of the town of Jackson, welcomes visitors daily (except on federal holidays) from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. for a close-up view of Snake River cutthroat trout. Observe fish in several indoor tanks and view photographic displays of spawning and stocking.

Black Bear

Unlike grizzlies, black bears have no distinctive shoulder hump and their ears are tall and pointed. Bears weigh 200-plus pounds.

BEST PLACES TO VIEW: Signal Mountain and Jenny Lake in summer.

INTERESTING FACTS: Cubs, born mid-winter, weigh less than a pound. Their claws make them great tree climbers. "A fed bear is a dead bear." Bears given access to human food or trash are often euthanized because of the danger their familiarity with people creates.

MYTH BUSTER: Bears don't actually hibernate. They go into a deep sleep, called torpor, but their body temperature doesn't drop as low as that of truly hibernating animals.

Grizzly Bear

In the Greater Yellowstone Area, male grizzlies, or boars, can weigh up to 600 pounds. They have a distinctive shoulder hump and their ears are short and rounded. Grizzly bears are opportunistic omnivores, which means they'll eat anything from berries, grasses, and insects to fish and newborn animals.

BEST PLACES TO VIEW: Willow Flats and Oxbow Bend

INTERESTING FACT: Grizzly sows (females) give birth to one to four cubs mid-winter while in their dens; the number may depend on the mother's health.

Bison

The bison is the largest North American land mammal; adult males can weigh up to 2,000 pounds. These giant animals are herbivores. They look docile but they are not; do not approach one!

BEST PLACES TO VIEW: Yellowstone National Park, Kelly/Antelope Flats loop and Elk Ranch Flats during the summer; National Elk Refuge during the winter.

INTERESTING

FACTS: Bison can jump a 6-foot fence from a standstill and gallop up to 35 mph. Calves are reddish in color for the first three months of life.

MYTH BUSTER:

Although the term "buffalo" is often used—inaccurately—to describe American bison, these animals are NOT related to the two major "true" buffalo species, which reside in Africa and Asia.

Moose

The moose is the largest antlered animal in the world. Bulls weigh up to 1,200 pounds. Most moose are solitary, but you may see them in small groups.

BEST PLACES TO VIEW: Willow Flats and along river corridors during summer; sagebrush flats in winter.

INTERESTING FACTS:

Moose can eat up to 70 pounds of leaves, twigs and aquatic vegetation a day. Their main defense mechanisms are their hard, sharp hoofs. Their antlers can grow as much as an inch a day.

Elk

Large bulls weigh up to 750 pounds. Predominantly grazers, elk eat grass most of the year. During winter, when snow covers the grass, they may consume the bark of aspen trees.

BEST PLACES TO VIEW: Summer—early and late in the day near Jenny Lake, in Grand Teton National Park. Winter—on the National Elk Refuge.

INTERESTING FACTS:

During the fall rut, dominant males collect harems of about 30 females, breeding with them and driving away other adult males by bugling (a loud, screaming vocalization) to advertise their strength.

Bighorn Sheep

Males are larger than females, weighing on average 250 pounds. Sheep are herbivores, browsing shrubs during the winter and grasses and wildflowers during the summer.

BEST PLACE TO VIEW: Miller Butte, in the National Elk Refuge, primarily during winter. During summer, bighorns can be found at high elevations in the Teton and Gros Ventre ranges that border Jackson Hole.

INTERESTING FACTS: Bighorn sheep's hooves are able to cup around rocks for traction on sheer rocky faces. Males establish a dominance hierarchy in the fall by running and clashing together, making contact with their horns.

Wolves

Males are slightly heavier than females, weighing up to 130 pounds. Usually seen in packs of about 10, wolves are capable predators, often running down prey in open territory. In Jackson Hole, they primarily feed on elk.

BEST PLACES TO VIEW: Infrequently seen in the Willow Flats area or among sagebrush flats throughout Grand Teton National Park. More commonly seen in northern Yellowstone.

INTERESTING FACTS: Wolf reintroduction efforts in the mid '90s released 66 wild wolves from Canada into Yellowstone National Park and central Idaho. There are now about 1,600 wolves in the Northern Rockies.

Pronghorn

Males weigh up to 140 pounds. Pronghorn are herbivores and prefer shrubs and forbs (wildflowers) to grasses.

BEST PLACES TO VIEW: Elk Ranch Flats and Antelope Flats

INTERESTING FACTS:

It's thought that pronghorn evolved their quick speed when pursued by a now extinct North American cheetah. They have been recorded sprinting up to 60 mph, which is faster than any other mammal in the Western Hemisphere.

YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK

Welcome to the world's first national park—there is no place on Earth quite like it. This model of conservation boasts approximately 10,000 active thermal features, the most famous of which is the Old Faithful geyser. Bison, bear and other fascinating wildlife abound within the park's 3,500-square mile boundary. Here is our recommended one-day lower loop sightseeing itinerary; you can join in at any point. To avoid the crowds we recommend you get an early start—plan to set aside 10 to 12 hours of travel and sightseeing time. jht.guide/yellowstone

ENTRANCE FEES: A 7-day pass is $35 for a private, non-commercial vehicle and $30 per motorcycle or snowmobile. The fee for those on foot or bicycle is $20 per person (age 16 and older). Annual passes cost $70.

Old Faithful

(17 miles from West Thumb)

Guaranteed to be a highlight of your day in Yellowstone, be sure to set aside a large chunk of time to explore the Old Faithful Inn, catch one of the famous geyser's on-time eruptions and explore the wondrous Upper Geyser Basin. Inside the new visitor center, you'll find posted signs predicting the next Old Faithful eruption, so grab a seat and wait for the impressive sight of up to 8,400 gallons of scalding water reaching heights topping 184 feet.

The monumental Old Faithful Inn, completed in 1904, is the largest log structure in the world. Its massive 65-foot ceiling, stone fireplace and gnarled railings made from local lodgepole pine ensure its stature as one of the most legendary buildings of the American frontier. The inn also features shops and restaurants.

YELLOWSTONE'S SOUTHERN LOOP

Here is our recommended sightseeing loop. You can join it at any point.

Gibbons Falls

(14 miles from Firehole Lake Drive)

The Gibbon River tumbles over 84 feet. Be sure to take the short path along the river; it's handicap accessible and great for people of all ages.

Firehole Lake Drive

(5 miles from Midway Geyser Basin)

Take this one-way drive past many geysers and springs. If you're lucky you will witness the Great Fountain Geyser erupting—it shoots one of the tallest sprays in the park!

Midway Geyser Basin

(8 miles from Old Faithful)

A brief stop at Midway Geyser Basin, known as Hell's Half Acre, is 100% worth it. The basin's hot water gushes from geothermal pools to meet the aptly named Firehole River, while tendrils of the massive Grand Prismatic Spring, the largest hot spring in the United States, extend out from its deep turquoise center.

Grand Canyon of Yellowstone

(34 miles from Midway Geyser Basin)

Many Yellowstone visitors make the mistake of turning around after exploring Old Faithful and the geyser basins. Don't be one of them! The awe-inspiring Grand Canyon of Yellowstone and its dramatic Upper and Lower Falls are well worth the extra driving time. Carved into soft rhyolite stone by the Yellowstone River, the canyon is where visitors can truly see how Yellowstone garnered its name, with a rainbow of colors (including yellow!) in the exposed rock descending to the canyon floor.

The tumbling waters of Lower Falls spiral from a height twice that of Niagara Falls. This thundering vista can be enjoyed from Lookout Point, Red Rock Point and Artist Point.

TRAVELER TIP

Old Faithful erupts every 44 to 125 minutes. To plan accordingly, check with the visitor center upon arrival or jht.guide/oldfaithful for upcoming eruption times.

Be sure to visit Canyon Village and check out the visitor education center that includes interactive exhibits, animations and real-time scientific data.

West Thumb Geyser Basin

(22 miles from the South Entrance)

This will be your introduction to a variety of geothermal features: bubbling springs of finely milled mud, multi-colored pools and steaming lakeside cones. Located right on the shore of vast Yellowstone Lake, this stop includes the Thumb Paint Pots, the deep blue Abyss Pool and Fishing Cone, where early visitors joked one could catch a fish in the lake and then dunk it directly in boiling water to make dinner.

THINGS TO DO AS A FAMILY

No matter what the season, we've got family fun here in spades! Many activities are suitable for both kiddos of all ages and the most senior member of your "tribe." Here are some ways to enjoy a multi-generational trip in the Tetons.

jht.guide/family

All of Jackson Hole's top attractions feature something for everyone. For instance, taking an Aerial Tram ride at Jackson Hole Mountain Resort is a must-do-or-why-bother-being-here activity. Hop on board in winter to ski down from the summit or during summer to take in the awesome 360-degree view from the top of the world.

- Tour Grand Teton and Yellowstone national parks (why, hello Old Faithful!). In the winter, taking a horse-drawn sleigh ride on the National Elk Refuge or ice skating on the Town Square are other classic, family-friendly activities.
- Make the most of our local parks. The new R Park, on the banks of the Snake River in Wilson, boasts a swimming pond! Phil Baux Park, at the base of Snow

King, is a great place for kids to try their hands (and feet) at bouldering, while you picnic in the shade.

- The Cache Creek Nature Trail is a short, accessible hike along a boardwalk to a Forest Service picnic area—dog-friendly and appropriate for even the littlest rugrats!
- And of course, all the basics: hiking, biking, swimming, rafting, skiing, sledding and more!

10 THINGS TO DO YEAR-ROUND

1 See Wildlife

Take a guided wildlife tour or use your own wheels to see local critters.

The wild things are all around you here, but you need to know what to look for and where to look. It's all about being in the right place at the right time. Sunrise and sunset are prime viewing times. Here are a few other tips for spotting wildlife around Jackson Hole:

MOOSE-WILSON ROAD

Skirting the mountains between the Craig Thomas Discovery and Visitor Center and the Granite Canyon entrance to Grand Teton National Park, look for beaver ponds, moose in the willows and, in late summer/early fall, bears in the berry bushes.

KELLY LOOP AND ANTELOPE FLATS

The eastern section of the valley is a great place to observe Plains species among the sagebrush, such as bison and pronghorn. Also keep an eye open for coyotes, northern harriers and sage grouse.

OXBOW BEND

One of the most scenic Grand Teton National Park vistas, this is also one of the richest for wildlife, with moose wading in the wetlands, river otters and hundreds of species of birds, from bald eagles to American white pelicans.

NATIONAL ELK REFUGE

In winter the National Elk Refuge is home to some 7,300 elk. Although the wapiti (the Shawnee term for elk) are visible from the road, the best way to meet them is by taking a Double H Bar horse-driven sleigh ride around the refuge. Rides are offered from mid-December through early April. Tickets may be purchased at the visitor center on North Cache. Bison, coyotes, bald eagles and wolves can also be viewed on the refuge. During winter months, bighorn sheep climb up and down Miller Butte.

WILDLIFE EXPEDITIONS

WILDLIFE WATCH. Experience the majesty of Grand Teton and Yellowstone National Parks with Wildlife Expeditions, Jackson Hole's premier and only nonprofit tour provider. Our small groups are led by experienced, professional guides in comfortable, customized safari-style vehicles, making for a personalized, fun experience.

2 Health and Wellness

BODY SAGE SPA AT RUSTY PARROT

THE BODY SAGE SPA has long been home to some of the valley's finest massage therapists and estheticians, and recently moved into a newly built spa. It's the perfect space to relax and renew with treatments like the Nature Ritual, Revitalize or Sports Recovery Package.

rustyparrot.com/spa | 307-733-4455
175 N Jackson St, Jackson
At the Rusty Parrot Lodge & Spa

3 Step Back in Time

Like ghostly brands on the wilderness, traces remain of the valley's original homesteaders. For a glimpse of the structures they built, drive out to Mormon Row near Kelly. There you can also see the iconic Moulton Barn, one of the most photographed structures in Jackson Hole!

Menor's Ferry Historic District is located half a mile from Grand Teton National Park's Moose entrance. For many years the ferry was the only dry way for people to get across the Snake River.

JACKSON HOLE HISTORICAL SOCIETY

VALLEY HISTORY. Jackson Hole Historical Society and Museum is just steps off the Town Square! Exhibits at the North Cache location highlight early ranches, hunting and outfitting. See the "Indians of the Greater Yellowstone" exhibit at our Glenwood location. One admission—two museums!

Admire Amazing Art

In the past decade, Jackson Hole has taken its place beside Scottsdale, Santa Fe, San Francisco and New York as a major destination for art lovers, becoming known as the Art Center of the Rockies. In the spring of 2017, the National Center for Arts Research ranked Jackson the most vibrant arts community among U.S. populations smaller than 1 million.

Many famous artists and photographers have been inspired by the landscape and wildlife in Jackson Hole, including Ansel Adams, Thomas Moran, Charles Banks Wilson and Conrad Schwiering.

Nearly 30 local galleries—including the renowned National Museum of Wildlife Art—proudly present a broad range of work, from old masters like Frederic Remington to nationally and internationally known contemporary artists.

Get on the Water

You can't go wrong with a rafting trip on the Snake River. Numerous companies guide trips through the Class I, II and III rapids that churn through the Snake River Canyon to the south of Jackson, and down the spectacularly scenic, calmer stretches of the Snake River that wind through Grand Teton National Park.

If you want to brave the Snake River Canyon, expect a rock-and-roll thrill ride that will have you dripping wet and beaming from ear to ear. Of course, there's no shortage of glorious views and wildlife viewing opportunities, as well.

During a mellower float trip in the park, you'll only get soaked if you hop out of the boat and swim. The lazily flowing waters make these stretches of the Snake River ideal for wildlife viewing and catching unique, ever-shifting views of the Teton and Gros Ventre mountain ranges.

NATIONAL PARK FLOAT TRIPS

THE NATURAL BEAUTY SEEN while on one of our float trips lets Grand Teton National Park visitors discover the magic of the Snake River from a very unique perspective. Get off the beaten path and discover the Snake River corridor, which is a lifeline to many of the animals and other natural resources of Grand Teton National Park. Q WHAT KIND OF WILDLIFE CAN BE SPOTTED WHILE RAFTING THE SNAKE RIVER IN GRAND TETON NATIONAL PARK?

A In the national park we frequently see elk, moose, deer, eagles, osprey, various birds and occasional black and grizzly bears. On evening trips we can count on seeing the ever-popular beaver dining on the riverbanks or swimming and diving near its lodges.

Go Fish

One of the quintessential activities to do in Jackson Hole is fly fishing with the impressive Teton Range as a backdrop.

The legendary Snake River fine-spotted cutthroat trout draws anglers of all abilities from every corner of the world. Pursue these revered “cutties” and more with a guided trip from one of several local fly fishing outfitters.

A fun and unique spot for children and first-time anglers to fish—via fly or worm—is the Jackson National Fish Hatchery, north of the town of Jackson off Hwy 191. A half-acre pond on the hatchery grounds is open daily from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

JD HIGH COUNTRY OUTFITTERS

THE VALLEY'S MOST EXTENSIVE AND KNOWLEDGEABLE FISHING RESOURCE offers full- and half-day guided fishing excursions, wading trips and casting lessons. Stop in for fishing reports, licenses, information about local waters and all the gear you need for any angling adventure.

5*Take a Hike

Hiking in Jackson Hole runs the gamut from river walks to boulder scrambles to mountain panoramas and getting high—like thousands of feet high. Peak hiking season stretches from late June through the end of September. This is the golden time when days are longest, trails are driest and you'll see a variety of plant life, including waving wildflower meadows in July and fiery aspens in the fall.

Before you head out, check the forecast on mountainweather.com/forecast. Be aware that afternoon thunderstorms are frequent. In addition, many trails are exposed and offer limited shade, so proper hydration and sun protection are crucial.

CONSIDER THREE THINGS
WHEN PLANNING YOUR HIKE:

- ▶ The driving time to the trailhead.
- ▶ The activity level of your group. Are you seasoned hikers looking to feel the burn? Are you traveling with small children?
- ▶ The trail conditions. These can be verified at visitor centers and ranger stations.

While we recommend taking at least one hike in Grand Teton National Park during your stay (see pg. 24), fantastic hiking is also found throughout the rest of Jackson Hole. Near the town of Jackson, Goodwin Lake Trail and the Cache Creek trail system are popular, low-stress options. More challenging trails zigzag up and around Snow King Mountain.

Halfway up Teton Pass, in Wilson, you'll find the Phillips Canyon Road and the trailhead for a handful of trails accessing the southern end of the Tetons, including the Teton Crest Trail. Ski Lake is a favorite, moderate, 5-mile round-trip hike in this area.

Hike in groups and always carry bear spray.

For more information on hiking in Jackson Hole, visit jht.guide/hike

6*Get in the Air

If you think the Tetons look spectacular from the valley floor, just wait until you're at 12,000 feet! Here are a few ways to get airborne:

► Jump off a mountain. Strap into a tandem paraglider with an experienced pilot from Jackson Hole Paragliding, who will navigate more than 3,200 feet back to the valley floor. Flights are offered at Jackson Hole Mountain Resort both summer and winter.

► Take a scenic flight by escaping into the wild, blue yonder to sail across the Tetons with Fly Jackson Hole.

FLY JACKSON HOLE!

FLY HIGH. Take off from the Jackson Hole Airport for the aerial adventure of a lifetime! Explore the untamed wilderness of Jackson Hole and soar along the rocky spine of the Tetons. Nothing compares to seeing the valley's breathtaking natural beauty from the sky.

See a Stunning Sunset

When the sun sets in Jackson Hole, it's a take-your-breath-away experience. Here are some of our favorite spots for watching it sink behind the dramatic Teton Range:

CURTIS CANYON. Located close to the town of Jackson and reachable via the National Elk Refuge Road, this gem of a sunset-viewing spot is in the Bridger-Teton National Forest.

MORMON ROW. The Mormon Row Historical District is home to the Moulton Barn, the most photographed barn in Wyoming. Sunsets there usually include bison, only adding to the jaw-dropping scenery. Drive north from Jackson on Hwy 191 past Moose Junction and turn right onto Antelope Flats Road.

DORNAN'S. Whether you're inside Dornan's Pizza & Pasta Company, sitting on its upstairs deck or enjoying a chuck wagon meal on a picnic table, you'll have a front-row seat to watch the beautiful sunset.

JENNY LAKE and the top of SIGNAL MOUNTAIN in Grand Teton National Park are two other great places to catch a memorable sunset.

JACKSON HOLE MOUNTAIN RESORT

 jacksonhole.com
 @jacksonhole
 #jacksonhole

Teton Village, Wyoming, located just 12 miles from downtown Jackson, is home to the world-famous Jackson Hole Mountain Resort, known to many ski and snowboard aficionados as The Big One. It is also located just 1 mile from Grand Teton National Park's southern entrance. One of the premier destination resorts in the country, Jackson Hole Mountain Resort is an outdoor enthusiast's playground, offering endless possibilities for adventure. Shopping, dining, free concerts, kids camps, mountain biking, hiking, paragliding and scenic aerial tram rides are just the beginning of the offerings at this family-friendly destination. There really is something for everyone!

Jackson Hole Sightseeing Pass

* Bike park lift ticket sold separately.

Jackson Hole Mountain Resort is excited to introduce the Sightseeing Pass, which allows unlimited, all-day access to the iconic Aerial Tram, Bridger Gondola and Teewinot chairlift! Now hikers and sightseers can explore the mountains whatever way suits them best: riding up and hiking down, riding the whole way or creating a combination that caters best to the group.

Ride the famous 100-passenger Jackson Hole Aerial Tram from Teton Village to the summit of Rendezvous Mountain at 10,450 feet and stand on the crest of the Teton Range. This unforgettable ride whisks passengers an amazing 4,139 vertical feet up for unbeatable, 360-degree views of the Tetons and the surrounding national park. Sightseers often spot a variety of wildlife during the ride!

The Bridger Gondola also offers a wide range of hiking and dining activities from where it tops out at 9,095 feet. Take the 12-minute ride to explore the expansive network of hiking trails. Then treat yourself to a cold drink before the ride or hike down.

Down at the base of the resort, the Teewinot chairlift accesses several family-friendly hiking trails as well as the downhill mountain bike park. No downhill bike? No problem. You can rent bikes and gear at JH Sports.

Kids Activities

The Kids Ranch is the ideal place for children to grow, explore and learn about Jackson Hole, with great day-camp and bike-clinic programs. Hiking and a variety of other fun outdoor adventures keep kids energized, while a science project or ride on the Aerial Tram can add wonder into the day. Arts and crafts, water play in the pop-jet fountain or mountain bike riding round out the experience. A summer favorite is bike camps for all ages, where young rippers can learn fun and safe mountain biking skills. The well-trained and fun-loving staff at the Kids Ranch will have your children demanding a return trip!

Hiking Trails

If you prefer to explore the mountains by foot, you'll be delighted to learn that the extensive hiking trail system has expanded at Jackson Hole Mountain Resort. In addition to new trails connecting the tops of the Aerial Tram and Bridger Gondola through Tensleep Bowl, the trail crew recently completed the beautiful Wildflower Trail, which links the Lower Faces trails from the bottom of the mountain all the way up to Casper, and the Hoback Trail. Great views of the valley, the Aerial Tram, Bridger Gondola and wildflowers can be soaked in to the fullest, as the trail boasts benches at several scenic points. There is even a picnic table that offers shade and one of the best views around. You can expect this hike to take about three hours round trip.

Culinary Exploration

There is a splendid variety of dining opportunities in Teton Village, from delicious pizzas to gourmet dinners with a view. Stop by Nick Wilson's for lunch on the patio and watch the iconic Aerial Tram leave its dock every 15 minutes. For an unparalleled evening experience, take a ride to the top of the Bridger Gondola and try our top-rated restaurants overlooking the greater Teton Valley.

Executive Chef Michael Britton is proud to introduce Piste Mountain Bistro, which offers a comfortable menu of locally sourced dishes that you can savor yourself or share with the table. The Deck at Piste offers casual, al fresco dining, shared plates, tasty brews and creative cocktails along with its breathtaking view of the valley from a 9,095-foot perch. The gondola ride to these venues is free of charge nightly starting at 5 p.m. (occasionally closed for private events or weather—check jacksonhole.com before you go). See a full description in the restaurant section of Jackson Hole Traveler.

Music & Outdoor Entertainment

Teton Village has a central commons area and a fantastic amphitheater that provides a gorgeous setting for evening entertainment for the whole family. Concerts on the Commons, a free outdoor concert series, happens Sunday evenings in July and August at 5 p.m. It's a great chance to experience a variety of local and national musical performances in a truly memorable setting.

Alive @ 5 is another wonderful opportunity to enjoy summer in the Village Commons. An hour of free, family-oriented presentations and activities takes place Tuesday through Thursday nights at 5 p.m. in the Commons starting June 28th. You can catch anything from wildlife presentations to great live music from various local musicians. For a complete lineup of concerts and events, visit jacksonhole.com or call 307-739-2753.

Embrace the serenity of your surroundings with Yoga on the deck at the top of the Bridger Gondola. More details at jacksonhole.com/yoga.

Downhill Bike Park

Jackson Hole Mountain Resort's downhill mountain bike park is accessed via the Teewinot chairlift. Built by Gravity Logic, the world's premier mountain bike park developer, this park represents the finest in trail design and construction. There are multiple trails of varying ability providing plenty of fun and challenge for everyone, from new bikers to the seasoned rider. The trails have a progressive rating system, just like the ski trails. Wide, smooth "green" trails cater to the largest number of riders, but you can work your way up in difficulty to the "blue" trails with their banked turns, or the "dark blue" and "black" trails, which provide tight turns, drop features and big jumps.

Should you need to rent a bike or bike gear, Teton Village Sports in Teton Village has an expert staff that can outfit you and your family and friends for any biking expedition, whether it's hitting the new trails or cruising along the scenic bike path north into Grand Teton National Park or south into Wilson. Cruiser bikes, freeriders, trailers, kids bikes—they've got it all. Jackson Hole Sports is where you can "gear up" for your downhill biking experience. They are also the headquarters for the Jackson Hole Mountain Sports School, offering day camps and clinics for novice and intermediate bike riders.

Winter

Jackson Hole Mountain Resort (JHMR) extends a world of wonder to new and returning visitors alike. Famous for world-class skiing, breathtaking scenery and a truly Western spirit, no other resort in North America offers such a completely authentic ski vacation.

Rendezvous and Apres Vous mountains can accommodate beginners through experts, and every adventurer in between. Situated in the heart of the Tetons and home to North America's most iconic lift, the Aerial Tram, JHMR has the country's longest vertical rise served by a single lift. As a counterpoint to the vast, yet challenging terrain accessed via the tram, the high-speed Bridger Gondola provides acres of moderate, groomed slopes for the intermediate skier. The new Sweetwater Gondola, located between the Bridger Gondola and Teewinot High Speed Quad, has a mid-station approximately a third of the way up the mountain, in the Solitude area. It then proceeds upward to its termination just uphill of the Casper Restaurant. This gondola provides access to terrain perfect for beginners and intermediates.

Families and individuals will enjoy exploring the mountain with our Mountain Sports School instructors and unique Backcountry Guide program. Improved grooming and snowmaking across the mountain continue to be a priority at the resort as well.

Forgot your goggles? Need to rent skis? The friendly and professional staff at Jackson Hole Sports, located conveniently near the Bridger Gondola, is prepared to get you on the mountain quickly.

Have kids? Make a stop at the newly expanded Kids Ranch facilities, where children learn to ski and so much more.

With reliable snow, friendly staff and great terrain for all abilities, Jackson Hole Mountain Resort is a memorable vacation destination for all types of skiers and riders. Come experience Western hospitality at its finest this winter in Teton Village.

Epic Singletrack

Throughout the summer, Grand Targhee turns into a mountain bike mecca for downhillers and cross-country riders. There are more than 70 miles of multi-use trails with spectacular views, and downhill and free-ride terrain that appeals to beginner and advanced bikers. Since 2013, over 40 miles of new trails have been installed—and there are more on the way. Downhill biking has continued to grow at the resort, which now offers

Super Skiing

There's one statistic that should stand out when you consider a trip to Grand Targhee Resort: 500 inches. That's the average amount of light, dry powder that pummels this laid-back Wyoming resort each season, thanks to a high-alpine barrier that deposits consistent, double-digit dumps on its 2,602 acres of glades, bowls and groomed runs. From slopeside accommodations, a locally inspired menu at the Branding Iron Grill and après music at the Trap Bar & Grill to massages, snowshoeing, tubing, fat biking and nature tours, there's plenty for the entire family to enjoy. Kids can explore the Kids Adventure Zone and excel their skills in the Powder Scouts or Mini Moose programs. Looking to spread out? The resort offers a wide selection of vacation rentals in Teton Valley, Idaho.

eight different downhill trails, over 14 miles. Rock Garden, an advanced trail covering 2 miles of rocky terrain with 12 jumps and features, descends 1,809 feet in elevation. This is the steepest downhill to date and the first to descend to the rider's right from the top of Fred's Mountain. The Grand Targhee Bike Park was voted the No. 2 bike park in 2014, 2015 and 2016, and the No. 1 bike park in the Northwest in 2013 by MTBparks.com. This summer, bring the family and check out the all new beginner flow trails off of Shoshone.

Grand Targhee Resort is a great stop for all adventures in Teton Valley and the Yellowstone-Teton area.

9 THINGS TO DO IN WINTER

jht.guide/winterfun

1 Hit the Slopes

With an average annual snowfall ranging from 450 inches to more than 500, skiing in and around Jackson Hole is world-class.

Snow King Mountain Resort, known as the "Town Hill," boasts one of the steepest sustained pitches, top-to-bottom, of any area in the lower 48 states. A favorite lunchtime destination for locals, it hosts many national ski teams during the early season and local, state and regional alpine races throughout the winter. The King also offers night skiing under the lights until 7 p.m.

Jackson Hole Mountain Resort has been named the No. 1 Ski Resort in North America by Forbes magazine for the last seven years. Considered the closest to a European ski experience within the U.S., JHMR boasts acres of expert terrain and out-of-bound skiing, plus the longest continuous vertical drop of any ski area in the country: 4,139 feet.

Grand Targhee Resort is located on the typically snowier west side of the Tetons in Alta, Wyoming, and is known for the most powder days of any ski area in the country. With a vertical drop of 2,270 feet, it offers a mellower atmosphere with excellent skiing for all abilities.

History of Skiing in Jackson Hole

1925: Early valley skiers transition from using a single pole, placed between the legs to slow down, to using two poles and making turns.

1930s: Local skiers install rope tows on various mountains around Jackson Hole. Olympic ski team member Betty Woolsey arrives in the valley to train. Paul and Curly Petzoldt and Fred Brown ski the first-known descent of Rendezvous Mountain, the future home of Jackson Hole Mountain Resort.

1939: Snow King opens, becoming Wyoming's first ski area.

1946: Neil Rafferty installs the first chairlift in Wyoming on Snow King, driven by the wheels of an Army pickup truck.

1964: A Californian named Paul McCollister purchases 166 acres at the base of Rendezvous Mountain and forms the Jackson Hole Ski Corporation, the precursor to Jackson Hole Mountain Resort.

1965: Jackson Hole Ski Corporation opens Apres Vous Mountain to the public.

1966: The Jackson Hole Aerial Tram starts taking skiers to the top of Rendezvous, solidifying Jackson Hole as an international ski destination.

Play in the Snow

Old Pass Road, Cache Creek Trail,

R Park and Rangeview Park are popular places to sled and play in the snow. You can buy sleds, tubes and saucers at Kmart or Headwall Sports.

King Tubes (Snow King). Anyone taller than 42 inches can snow tube. Ages 14 and up: $20/hour; kids 13 and under: $15. Buy an extra hour for only $5.

Grand Targhee Resort Tubing Park. A magic carpet whisks you up the hill for each tube run. Tickets are $14.

Go Snowmobiling

With hundreds of miles of trails and some of the most beautiful winter terrain in the country to explore, a snowmobile trip in Jackson Hole is a day you won't soon forget. Rent a snowmobile or join an outfitter for a guided half- or full-day tour. The latter excursions are generally early wake-up affairs that make the most of an entire day of snowmobiling.

WHERE TO GO

► Yellowstone National Park is closed to vehicular traffic in winter, making a snowmobile tour on the park's snow-covered roads a special, once-in-a-lifetime experience.

► Togwotee Pass. Zoom along the Continental Divide trail system on the No. 1-ranked snowmobile terrain in the country.

► Cruise out to Granite Hot Springs and then hop into the welcoming thermal pool.

GO COACH!

Experience the snow-covered roads of Yellowstone National Park in a snowcoach—one of the only ways to access Old Faithful in the winter. Snowcoach tours provide a warmer, more social and relaxing alternative to snowmobiling. Also offered are guided interpretations of the wildlife, history and geological features of the world's first national park.

SCENIC SAFARIS

EXPERIENCE TRUE WINTER EXCITEMENT! Join our knowledgeable and experienced guides via snowmobile or snowcoach on a tour of Yellowstone National Park's sights, such as Old Faithful and the Grand Canyon, or on a custom multi-day trip. Backcountry snowmobile tours also available in the Gros Ventre and Togwotee, or to Granite Hot Springs.

Get Into the Backcountry

Jackson Hole is internationally renowned for its backcountry skiing and snowboarding. With access available from the Jackson Hole Mountain Resort, Teton Pass and Grand Teton National Park, getting into the backcountry is easier than ever. But be warned: It's also easier than ever to find yourself in trouble. Teton County Search and Rescue volunteers and Grand Teton park rangers are dispatched several times a year to extract the unaware or unprepared from the Teton backcountry. Injuries and fatalities caused by avalanches and falls off of cliffs also occur far too frequently, even with the most experienced skiers and snowboarders.

All backcountry users, regardless of their chosen mode of travel—alpine or Nordic skis, snowboard, snowshoes or ice axe and crampons (for ice climbers)—need to be prepared for and educated about every possible condition and scenario. An avalanche course is highly recommended. Start at a local shop like Teton Mountaineering or

Wilson Backcountry Sports to find out what information and gear is required for a successful backcountry experience. Or contact a local guide company, such as Exum Mountain Guides or Jackson Hole Mountain Guides, about available courses and trips.

Whether you head into the backcountry with or without a guide, always check the avalanche conditions first at jhavalanche.org.

THE HOLE HIKING EXPERIENCE

SNOWSHOE & SKI TOURS. Since 1989, Jackson's original nature company! Explore Grand Teton Park on snowshoes or xc skis. Learn about wildlife, winter ecology, tracks, natural history and much more. Naturalist led. Most tour options. All ages and abilities.

holehike.com | 307-690-4453

7 Explore the Best Nordic Trails

Take in Jackson Hole's amazing wilderness on cross-country skis, snowshoes—or a "fat bike." With most of the roads in Grand Teton National Park closed in the winter, a half- or full-day tour with an outfitter such as Hole Hiking Experience or Teton Mountain Bike Tours offers a truly unique glimpse into the park's winter habitat. Jackson Hole Mountain Resort also offers guided tours, classes and rental gear.

Day passes are available to groomed trail systems at Teton Pines Cross Country Ski Center, Grand Targhee Nordic Ski Area and Trail Creek Nordic Center. Looking for an all-inclusive experience? Stay in a cozy cabin at Triangle X Guest Ranch, the only concession open in Grand Teton National Park in the winter, which offers cross-country skiing, snowshoeing and wildlife viewing right outside your front door. Or go to Brooks Lake Lodge & Spa, on the eastern edge of Jackson Hole, where you can enjoy miles of Nordic trails, plus ice fishing, snowmobiling and more.

For do-it-yourselfers, multiple options are available throughout the valley. Teton County grooms many of its pathways in the wintertime. Popular destinations include the Cache Creek and Game Creek trails near the town of Jackson, the Snake River levee at Emily Stevens Park and the Wilson Centennial Pathway. In Grand Teton National Park, skiers and snowshoers enjoy the trails to Bradley and Taggart lakes and the Phelps Lake overlook. Visit [jh nordic.com](http://jh nordic.com) for more info.

9 Go Heli-skiing

Talk about splurge-worthy experiences! There is no better way to fill your day with run after run of untouched powder than heli-skiing. Your flight will take you deep into the mountains around Jackson Hole, where a guide will point out the best bowls, chutes and glades so you can make turns of a lifetime.

The greenhouse grows fresh produce year-round, allowing local restaurants and grocery stores to offer the fruits of its bounty to customers. Visit Vertical Harvest's retail store for locally sourced food and artisanal products. verticalharvestjackson.com

Keep an eye out for Huidekoper Ranch produce on the menus of many restaurants around Jackson Hole. Huidekoper is a small-scale, bio-intensive farm in Wilson growing healthy food for the community.

Baked Goodies

Persephone Bakery is the home of artisanal, rustic breads and pastries, created using the highest-quality ingredients and traditional processes. You have to try their cinnamon brioche—it makes for a decadent breakfast treat or an amazing midday snack.

Picnic Coffee & Café stocks locals' favorite pastries, handmade by Persephone, as well as its own versions of American classics like Pop-Tarts and whoopie pies. Located at 145 E Broadway (Persephone) and 1110 Maple Way (Picnic).

Meat of the Matter

Meat that comes from one of our local cattle ranches or butchers can be found on the menus of eateries throughout the valley. Stop by one of the butchers or markets, too, such as Sweet Cheeks Meats, to purchase a local farm-to-table beef product. Mead Ranch, Lockhart Cattle Company, Jackson Hole Buffalo Meat Company, Jackson Hole Hereford Ranch, Purely By Chance and Robinson Family Farm and Ranch are some of the names to remember.

Classic Seasonal Menu Items

Jackson Hole goes huckleberry happy in late summer every year when residents scurry to their secret spots to pick these tart cousins to the wild blueberry. Long after the harvesting ends, huckleberries can be found on local menus and in food items throughout the year. Dubbed “purple gold” by old-timers, according to Jackson Hole food writer Annie Fenn, they make great jam, pies, tarts and especially milkshakes.

Morel mushrooms also have their own “hunting season” here. For just a few fleeting weeks in May, Jacksonites forage for these tasty morsels in the forests and near water. Many of the fungi then find their way onto menus in restaurants such as the Snake River Grill, Rendezvous Bistro and Il Villaggio Osteria.

WHERE IS THE BEST PLACE TO HANG YOUR HAT?

Anywhere—you're in Jackson Hole! That being said, it really depends on what you're looking for and what region of the valley you'd like to call your temporary home. jht.guide/stay

Town of Jackson

Some of the advantages of choosing lodging in the town of Jackson include easy access to restaurants—from casual eateries to decidedly upscale dining establishments—and a multitude of shops. There are also a number of venues to enjoy live music and theater just steps away from your downtown hotel. Other perks include the rodeo grounds, museums and art galleries. Snow King Mountain, which offers both day and night skiing in the winter and numerous activities and events throughout the year, is located on the southern edge of town. Jackson is also a short drive from Jackson Hole Airport and Grand Teton National Park.

The widest range of accommodations is found in town, too, from charming B&Bs to budget motels.

Teton Village

Your other major lodging choice is Teton Village, the home of Jackson Hole Mountain Resort and many of the valley's largest and most amenity-packed hotels. "The Village" is the happening place to be during the ski season, with its own enviable roster of shopping and restaurant options.

In the winter you have instant access to the ski resort without the hassle of parking—simply carry your skis to the base lift of your choice and off you go into the powder! During the summer months a stay in The Village is quieter, but imbued with expansive views and a mountain feel.

Teton Village is very pedestrian-friendly, so you don't need a car to go anywhere within it. The START bus provides regular service to and from the town of Jackson. And the southwestern entrance to Grand Teton National Park is only minutes away.

West Bank/Mid-Valley

Condominiums and overnight suites are available in the Aspens/Teton Pines area 4 miles south of Teton Village.

Spring Creek Resort, which sits atop East Gros Ventre Butte, is 3 miles west of the town of Jackson and offers a range of overnight and weekly accommodations. Its next-door neighbor, Amangani, caters to the even more luxury-minded.

Scattered throughout the valley are B&Bs, guest ranches, cabins and private homes to rent. Check out vrbo.com and Airbnb.com for the latter option or go to jacksonholetraveler.com for more suggestions.

Grand Teton National Park

To experience Grand Teton National Park to its fullest, many people choose to stay within its boundaries in the summer. This offers you the opportunity to be close to what the park has to offer while still being able to travel back and forth to Jackson for other activities and in-town dining.

There are a number of lodging options, from camper cabins in Colter Bay and historic cottages at Jenny Lake Lodge to a full-service resort at Jackson Lake Lodge and an honest-to-goodness dude ranch, the Triangle X, which is the only lodging open in the park in the wintertime!

No matter where you choose to stay while on vacation in Jackson Hole, the Teton Range watches over you. So any choice is the right choice.

RV Parks

GRAND TETON NATIONAL PARK: There are two trailer/RV-specific campgrounds located in Colter Bay and at Flagg Ranch. Three other campgrounds have electric hookups available.

JACKSON HOLE CAMPGROUND/FIRESIDE RESORT: Full hookups, pull-through at each site and dump station.

FIRESIDE BUFFALO VALLEY RV PARK: Near entrance to Grand Teton and Yellowstone national parks; full hook-ups, pull-throughs, dump station, laundry and showers.

JACKSON HOLE/SNAKE RIVER KOA: Open April 15th through October 15th; full hookups with Wi-Fi; pets allowed.

THE VIRGINIAN: Open May 1st through October 15th; 104 sites, full hookups, water, dump station, electricity, pull-through sites, swimming pool, laundry and showers.

Camping

Many campgrounds in the national parks and surrounding Jackson Hole area are first-come, first-served. All will give you incredible views and fresh mountain air—and memories to last a lifetime. The following is a brief overview of your options. For more details and contact info, go to jacksonholetraveler.com.

BRIDGER-TETON NATIONAL FOREST: Campgrounds normally open in late May and close in early September, depending on the weather. (A favorite spot is Curtis Canyon, just minutes from downtown, overlooking the entire National Elk Refuge.) Improved camping in designated sites is available for $12 to $15 per night.

GRAND TETON NATIONAL PARK: There are seven campgrounds throughout the park. Camping fees range from $30 to $40 a night for tent sites and can be more than $60 for some RV camp sites.

GROS VENTRE WILDERNESS AREA: For those seeking a true wilderness experience, the Gros Ventre Wilderness Area east of Jackson offers free camping in primitive sites with spectacular views of the Tetons.

YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK: Daily camping fees range from $15 for basic sites to more than $45 in campgrounds with improved facilities for RVs.
